2019 Utah Legislative Session Update

The 2019 Legislative session is in the books. The beginning of the Session was dominated by a disappointing rollback of voter-approved Prop 3, which will cover fewer families and create additional barriers to care. The latter half of the Session was dominated by an ambitious tax bill that, while containing some good intentions and beneficial elements (including our IGP EITC proposal), was ultimately set aside so that it could get the fuller consideration and refinement that it deserves during the interim. Nevertheless, our staff worked on many more issues and bills and there still many wins for kids and families this Session. I have to say that our staff is the best there is. They worked tirelessly, sometimes behind the scenes, to make sure that the voice of Utah's children and families were heard loudly at all levels of this important policy arena. Below is a recap of the legislative session 2019.

Health

Maternal Mental Health Appropriation -	Passed - Priority Appropriations!
Priority Appropriations!	, 11 1
 We worked with a variety of partners including the YWCA, American Academy of Pediatrics-Utah Chapter and Postpartum Support Utah to support funding for statewide maternal mental health services and treatment. This is the first-ever state appropriation for maternal mental health care and an important first step to strengthen our system of support for mothers and babies! Rep. Dailey-Provost (D-Salt Lake)
City) appropriations sponsor
Keeping Kids Covered – Priority Issue!	Passed - Priority Issue!
 Legislation which could help families receive additional information or support during their Medicaid re-enrollment or review periods. Re-enrollment or review periods can be a time when many eligible kids lose health insurance, through no fault of their own. This is an important first step to help keep all kids covered, all year round. Rep. Daw (R-Orem) intent language sponsor
SB96 – Medicaid Expansion	Opposed, but this bill passed

Adjustments

- Rolls back voter-approved Proposition 3, full Medicaid expansion
- Reduces full Medicaid expansion to a partial, more limited expansion; fewer people will have access to affordable Medicaid coverage
- Imposes harmful work reporting requirements, enrollment caps and funding caps on Medicaid
- Requires Utah to seek federal approval in order to implement
- IF waivers are rejected by the federal government, then the 'fallback' plan is closer to full Medicaid expansion, as voters intended
- Continued public action is needed, in order to oppose the waivers and tell lawmakers that Utah voted for full Medicaid expansion, not partial.

HB366- Health Care Amendments

- Makes important updates to Utah's CHIP program to ensure kids have access to mental health parity.
- Rep. Dunnigan (R-Taylorsville) sponsor

HB373 – Student Support

Amendments

Provides grants for more mental health workers in schools, including school nurses and social workers.

- Will expand student supports in schools, to help more kids access needed health services before a health condition or situation escalates.
- A very important step forward for Utah kids' health and well-being
- Rep. Eliason (R-Sandy) sponsor

SB83 - Partnerships for Healthy Communities

Did not pass

- First of its kind bill, which elevated the significance of social determinants of health on early childhood outcomes. Created the Partnerships for Healthy Communities Grant Program, drawing on community strengths to help improve early childhood health outcomes in high need communities.
- Brought attention to important community factors affecting kids' healthy development!
- Sen. Millner (R-Ogden) sponsor

HB372 - Dental Hygienist Amendments Did not pass

 Bill would have increased vulnerable populations' access to preventive dental care, including school-based sealant programs. Would have allowed for dental hygienists to bill Medicaid, under certain, specific conditions.

to an attorney when appearing in juvenile court, regardless of parents' ability to pay, and that they retain legal counsel as long as necessary for legal outcomes.

- Supported by our "And Justice for All Kids" report with SJ Quinney College of Law. Provided testimony and conducted extensive media.
- Sen. Weiler (R- Salt Lake City) sponsor

HB404 – Juvenile justice reform implementation

 Requires that money saved by not locking kids up is reinvested in early interventions for kids (rather than taken for other state expenses).

 Makes changes to keep the implementation of HB239 smooth.

 Rep. Snow (R- St. George) sponsor

HB120 – School Safety Assessments

- We worked hard with our community partners to ensure that this bill did not purchase the promise of safety for some, at the expense of safety and success for others.
- We will be working with Utah State Board of Education to implement in a way that is safe and equitable for all students, especially those who belong to already
