Day 4

During the 2017 Legislative session, Utah lawmakers will be making decisions daily that will affect our state's children and their families. At Voices for Utah Children, we know it's important to make sure that decision makers have up-to-date, accurate, and accessible data to base their decisions on. That's where our Utah KIDS COUNT Project comes in. Our annual "Measures of Child Well-Being" provides data on a variety of indicators at the county level.

In addition, this year, the Utah KIDS COUNT project is proud to introduce our latest data product: a "page-a-day" countdown calendar! This daily electronic legislative calendar not only shares data, highlights programs, and policy solutions but also serves as a reminder of how many days are left in the legislative session to make a difference for kids. Please follow us @utchildren on twitter and like us on Facebook in order to get involved electronically as we count down the days in this year's legislative session.

For 30 years now, Voices for Utah Children has called on our state, federal and local leaders to put children's needs first. But the work is not done. The children of 30 years ago now have children of their own. Too many of these children are growing up in poverty, without access to healthcare or quality educational opportunities.
